Don't get lost: library plans and rules

in corpore

ⓘ Information Guide

With the help of information terminals that are available in the Library or via infogidas.mb.vu.lt/en you can:

• Search in the virtual library;

• Access VU e-identity management system.

ⓘ Assistance

Information on Library's services is provided 24/7 at infostalas@mb.vu.lt or during working hours via phone: +370 52 19 5051.

General information on library services is provided at the information desks.

Subject Librarians provide consultations and trainings on how and where to find trusted scholarly information (e-resources, databases) and how to use it responsibly (copyright restrictions). You can find your faculty's subject librarian in the Library's website section Science and studies.

📖 Searching, borrowing, returning of the Library's items

• Search for the item in the virtual library (virtualibiblioteka.vu.lt/en). Note the reading room it is kept in and its call number (for example, Communication Reading Room and 028/Au14).

• Items marked with green stickers can be borrowed using self-service facilities. Please note that the loan period may vary between one day and half a year. Books with one month loan period can be renewed by users themselves via "My account" in the virtual library.

• Textbook Collection. The collection situated in the 2nd basement floor (-2) at the SCIC is open from 8:00 to 18:00. All items (even without green stickers) can be loaned for the entire semester. Items should be borrowed using self-service facilities located by the entrance.

@ Log on to the Library's computers

You can log on to the Library's computers by entering the number of your VU ID (e.g. 1234567) and the created password.

External users will be provided access to the Library's computers upon issue of the Library user's card (e.g. mb123456).

📶 Wireless network

Members of VU community can access wireless network via EDUROAM. Your devices should be configured according to the instructions at Information Technologies Services centre's website. All users with a Library user's card can access WiFi after configuring their devices according to the instructions

🖨 Copying, printing, scanning

Users are welcome to use standard scanners in the reading rooms (free of charge). The Library is equipped with multifunctional devices allowing users to copy, print and scan for a certain fee. Please address the librarians working at the information desk for more information.

✎ Booking of study spaces

Individual study spaces and rooms for group work can be booked only by the members of VU community. This can be done via rezervacijos.biblioteka.vu.lt/en/. All users can rent out Seminar rooms for a certain fee.

🕐 Rest areas

Zones designated for conversations and phone calls: lounge, cafeteria, rooms for group work. We would kindly ask to observe silence in the reading rooms.

🥤 Food policy

In reading rooms (except Special Collections reading rooms) users are allowed to drink non-alcoholic beverages and eat light snacks, though they cannot take big meals which emit odours and/or require cutlery. Such meals can be taken in the Café or Lounge which are supplied with microwaves.
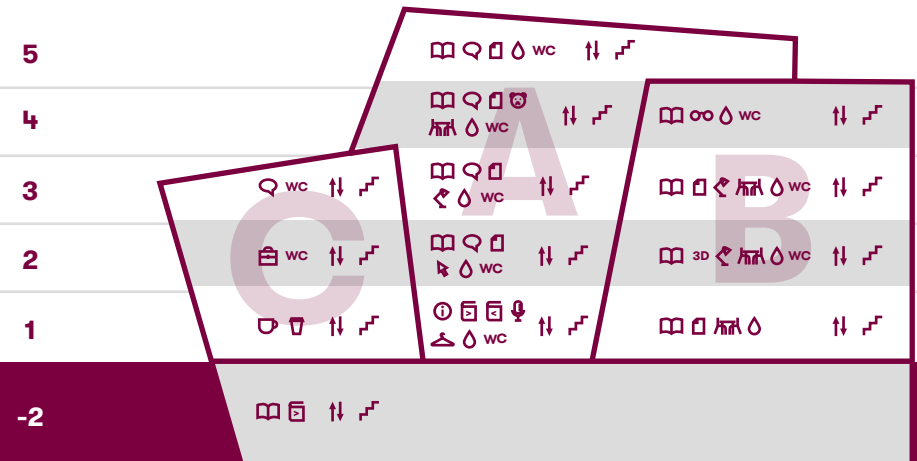

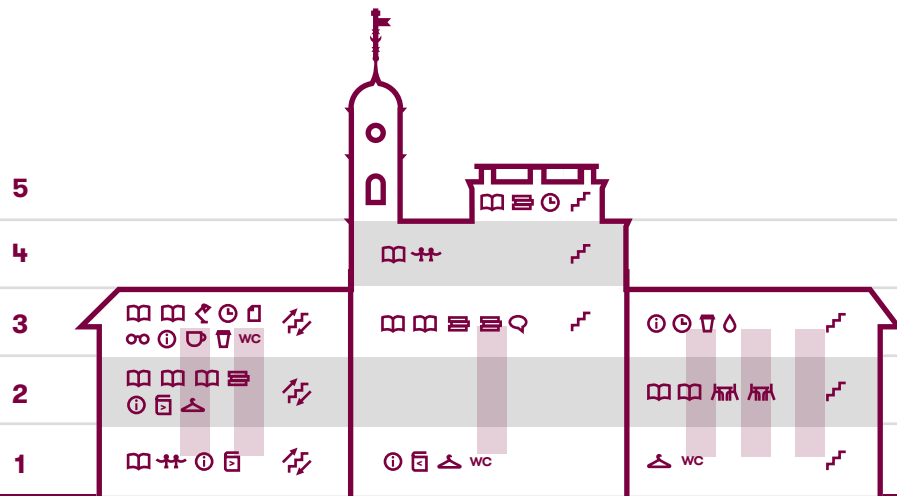

🧥 Coat room and lockers

We kindly ask to leave your outerwear as well as large bags, umbrellas and other belongings in the lockers situated on the 1st floor.
